The Kratz Scholarship was established to honor the legacy of Edwin and Edith Kratz, lifelong residents of Missouri. Edwin was a licensed architect who worked as the Chief Architect and Chief Underwriter for the Federal Housing Administration in Kansas City. Both Edwin and Edith had a passion about the importance of education and a personal commitment to continue to learn and expand their own knowledge as well as encouraging other to do so.

The Linda Erwin Young Scholarship was established to honor the legacy of Linda Young, Executive Director of the American Institute of Architects Kansas City Chapter from 1978 to 1989. Through Young's exceptional dedication and leadership she actively supported the community awareness of architecture and the built environment.

Peggy and Frank Zilm established two scholarships to honor young and deserving architectural students the first named 'The Peggy and Frank Zilm Scholarship' and the second to honor Kent Spreckelmeyer a professor at the University of Kansas for his strong commitment to mentoring students named as 'The Kent Spreckelmeyer Scholarship'. The Professor Kent Spreckelmeyer Scholarship was established to award to a deserving student attending the University of Kansas.

The Bruce McKenzie Scholarship was established in 2000 by Gary Nevius, AIA as a colleague and friend to honor Bruce's life as a talented architect and designer. The scholarship was established to provide a deserving student from Bruce's alma mater, Kansas State University, a better opportunity in his honor.

The Kansas City Architectural Foundation is a charitable corporation (501(c) (3)) established in 1984 through the leadership of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) Kansas City Chapter.

The Kansas City Architectural Foundation educates individuals and communities about the power of architecture to transform lives and improve the places where we live, learn, work, and play. Through our outreach programs, grants, scholarships and educational resources, KCAF inspires people to become thoughtful and engaged stewards of the built environment.
